django-fa

Release 1.0.0

Dec 27, 2021

Contents:

1 Quickstart 1
- 1.1 Installation . . . 1
- 1.2 Example template . . . 1

2 Authors 3
- 2.1 Origin . . . 3
- 2.2 Contributors . . . 3

3 1.0.0 - in development 5

4 0.4.0 - 2017-05-26 7

5 0.3.0 - 2016-02-26 9

6 0.2.0 - 2015-08-11 11

7 0.1.1 - 2015-07-26 13

CHAPTER 1

Quickstart

1.1 Installation

1. Install using pip:

   `pip install django-fa`

   Alternatively, you can install download or clone this repo and call `pip install -e .`.

2. Add to INSTALLED_APPS in your `settings.py`:

   `'fa',`

3. Use the font-awesome tag library in your templates

1.2 Example template

```
{% load font_awesome %}

{# Load CSS #}

{% fa_css %}

{# Display an icon #}

{% fa 'fa-shield' %}
```

CHAPTER 2

Authors

2.1 Origin

Original version written by Dylan Verheul at Zostera.

Thanks to everybody that contributed pull requests, ideas, issues, comments and kind words.

2.2 Contributors

- Dylan Verheul (https://github.com/dyve)

CHAPTER 3

1.0.0 - in development

- Rename fa to icon
- No longer automatically prepend fa to icon parameters
- Drop support for Django 1.9

CHAPTER 4

0.4.0 - 2017-05-26

- Default to to Font Awesome 4.7.0
- Fix Travis CI and unit tests
- Fix ReadThe Docs Documentation

CHAPTER 5

0.3.0 - 2016-02-26

- Default to Font Awesome 4.4.5
- Removed warnings for Django 1.10

CHAPTER 6

0.2.0 - 2015-08-11

- Font Awesome 4.4.0 is default now
- 100% coverage in tests

CHAPTER 7

0.1.1 - 2015-07-26

- First publication on GitHub